

McMaster · Times

Fall 2010

The Newsmagazine for McMaster University Alumni

pdc
John

Probing the Future

Mac centre breaks new ground

The Campaign for McMaster University

Continued from page 4

On page 20 of the Spring 2010 edition, there is a picture of President George, Ron Foxcroft and Ed Minich. You did not include Dr. Minich's honorary LLD degree that he received from McMaster in June 2004. Just wanted to point this out as Dr. Minich is a very proud and distinguished member of the McMaster community.
Dylan O. Bailey, Office of the Dean, Faculty of Science

At his farewell on June 17, Dr. George stressed that McMaster's successes were a testament to a large cast, not one player. In contrast, McMaster Times' statement that, "through his leadership McMaster has evolved into a leading national university and an international powerhouse of research," is hagiography, is simply wrong, and detracts from his accomplishments. To infer that McMaster's present stature is a culmination of his 45 years there ignores the crucial accomplishments of previous presidents. A few points: construction of the nuclear reactor, acquisition of the Bertrand Russell Archives, the School of Medicine and its world famous model for learning, put McMaster on the international map. . . It would be more faithful to the genuine accomplishments of Dr. George's presidency to print an honest and fuller picture.

Dr. Helen Hatton, '78

Most of your readers will know about the Paralympics which were held in Vancouver in March. What you may not know is that the Korean team in wheelchair curling, which came very close to beating the Canadian team in the final game, has a relationship to McMaster.

Home for this Korean team is Yonsei University Wonju Community Center for People with Disabilities. I am the director of that Center, as well as a Yonsei University alumnus and former professor in the College of Nursing at Yonsei. I am also a Mac grad in Nursing (1966).

Marg Storey '66

Correction

In the Spring 2010 edition of the McMaster Times there was an incorrect description of the company run by Chandra Kudsia '66. The story should have read that Mantrix Inc. provides consulting services in the area of space programs and education. ■

McMaster ■ Writes

Did you know that Titles Bookstore stocks more than 600 books written by McMaster faculty, staff and alumni?

Jacqueline Borowick '79 wrote The Cuckoo's Song/Le chant du coucou (Inanna Publications & Education Inc.), a bilingual collection of poems.

John Boyko '79 has written his fourth book, Bennett: The Rebel that Challenged and Changed a Nation (Key Porter Books, 2010).

Wayne Brouwer '89 & '99 has written Covenant Document: Reading the Bible Again for the First Time.

Gil Caldwell '67 published From Rustic to Region, an account of old buildings in the region of Peel, and Expressions, a fully illustrated catalogue of his career as a visual artist.

Paul Duff '51 has written his autobiography My Life, My Art.

C. Ray Fortune '67 wrote A Fortune in Fabric (LuLu.com, 2010), a story set in Scotland in the 1800s.

Penny Gill '04 wrote Coach in the Kitchen: Cooking With Autism.

K.V. Johansen '94 wrote The Shadow Road, Book Four in The Warlocks of Talverdin series.

Phil Johnson '69 wrote SOULWISE: How to Create a Conspiracy of Hope, Health and Harmony (NanoHouse Press, 2010).

W. Andy Knight '83 co-authored Global Politics (Oxford University Press Canada, 2010).

Karen Lee Lewis '83 published What I Would Not Unravel, a collection of poetry. (Writer's Den, 2010).

Stephen MacNeil '83 has written a children's book, Woolies and Worms (Cricket Books).

Nawin Mishra '67 recently published Introduction to Proteomics (John Wiley).

Carol Morley '99 wrote a cookbook, Delicious Detox (Otterville Press, 2010) featuring recipes for healthy, tasty meals.

Patricia Moser '80 & '81 and Barbara Moser co-authored and self-published 1 Piece of Advice.

Elaine Schmidt '93 wrote Hey Mom! Listen to This!: A Parent's Guide to Music (Hal Leonard, 2010).

Caroline Stellings '83 & '86 recently published The Dot Com Leprechaun (Breakwater Books, 2010).

Lisa Timpf '83 wrote and self-published A Trail That Twines, a collection of poetry and short non-fiction pieces.

F. Stewart Toll '61 published a personal memoir, The Wonder of It All.

David Wand '82 & '84 has written Government Institutional Performance and Social Capital in Ghana (Lambert Academic Publishing, 2010).

In our Winter issue, we reported that Heather (Roberts) Cadshy '61 had released a collection